SPEND A SEMESTER IN INDONESIA TO GAIN LINGUISTIC & CLASSROOM COMPETENCE

Would you like to be an Indonesian language teacher?

About the Program

This semester-long 'in-country' program will encourage flexible approaches to the teaching of the Indonesian language. Participants are provided with a greater understanding of unfamiliar linguistic, cultural and political environments, plus the opportunity to learn and practice innovative methods of language teaching.

Universitas Sanata Dharma (USD)

Located in Yogyakarta, USD is a well-equipped, modern university which has a language learning centre and a well-established Teacher Training and Education faculty. The faculty Dean was educated in Australia (MA La Trobe, PhD Melbourne), and is intimately aware of the requirements of the Australian education system.

What is included?

- » Intensive Indonesian language classes;
- » A teaching methodology course;
- » Materials development;
- » An Indonesian school placement;
- » A student reflective eJournal.

Who can Apply?

Anyone can apply, however this course is designed for pre-service teachers - those who are currently undertaking their BEd degree, and have not yet started teaching. Participants must enter the program with upper-intermediate to advanced Indonesian language proficiency.

Applications are due by 15 September for Semester 1 and 15 April for Semester 2. Apply at:
