UNDERTAKE FIELD STUDY IN A RURAL OR URBAN AREA OF WEST JAVA

Complete an independent, assessed field study project in one of Indonesia's most dynamic provinces.

About the Program

ACICIS Study Indonesia offers students capable of independent study the opportunity to undertake assessed field study through Parahyangan University (UNPAR), Bandung. A number of students have incorporated their field study projects into an undergraduate honours program with the approval of their home university.

Parahyangan University

Parahyangan University (UNPAR) is one of Indonesia's oldest private universities. Both teaching and research conducted at the university continue to set national and international standards in terms of quality and excellence.

What is involved?

- » 3-day live-in orientation program;
- » Full-time support from ACICIS and UNPAR staff;
- » Allocated supervisor with expertise in chosen study area;
- » 8-10,000 word field study report in English or Indonesian;
- » Assessed seminar presentations;
- » Opportunity to take regular coursework units

The West Java Field Study can be taken as either a stand-alone program or useful second semester study option for students looking to extend their in-country experience. The program caters to students both with and without Indonesian language competency.

Applications are due by 15 September for Semester 1 and 15 April for Semester 2. Apply at:
